Top 10 2020

Skills Project

April / June 2019

What is the Top 10 Skills project?

Top 10 Skills, also known as New Skills for a New Labour Context, is designed to prepare people for a changing workplace in 2020 and beyond.

Seven project partners are working together to create training resources to improve employability through developing new skills, such as emotional intelligence and empathy.

What stage is it at?

The project team met in Dublin, Ireland, in April to review and work on the next steps.

Within phase 2 (Top 10 Workers for a New Era) twenty training modules have been completed and are ready for testing. The training modules include information, techniques and exercises in skills such as creative thinking, negotiation and cognitive flexibility.

What next in Phase 2?

These training modules will now be tested adding practical exercises (tools) by staff trainers working with volunteers. Their feedback will be used to produce the final versions, which will then be freely available online.

If you would like to be part of the testing, contact your local Top 10 Skills partner.

The World Economic Forum has listed the following ten skills as essential for the workplace of the future:

Complex problem solving, critical thinking, creativity, people management, coordinating with others, emotional intelligence, judgement and decision making, service orientation, negotiation, cognitive flexibility

Our project is already delivering training in these important areas

Training Event in Poland

C1 – Train the Trainer - Poland (Krakow) – 5th to 7th June 2019 – Training days at the John Paul II University on Wednesday and Friday, with visits to companies on the Thursday. We had a 3 day training event including a visit to the Luthfansa Centre and the Salt Mines.

Phase 2 - Workers for a new Era

For the second phase of the project the partners are creating some interactive training activities and exercises for workers. This training will help workers to improve their knowledge of the top 10 skills and prepare them for the future.

This training material is going to be tested from the end of June and multiplier events will also be organised by all partners.

If you are interested in knowing more please contact one of the partners.
