

PROJECT INSIDER

ISSUE NO 4 NOVEMBER 2021

future
2022 skills

The Future Skills 2022 Project is sadly nearly coming to an end, and despite the challenges of the covid-19 pandemic, we are delighted with how the consortium of partners across 6 European countries have managed to deliver the project to a high quality.

Taking inspiration from the 2018 World Economic Forum report, the partners have produced 2 main outputs to equip workers with invaluable information about gaining the most in-demand skills for the workplace of the future:

1. The Voice of the Experts: 20 podcasts on the top 10 future skills
2. Reskilling Clips: 20 audio-visual interviews of best practice examples

Which skills are in demand?

Analytical thinking and innovation
Complex problem solving
Active learning and learning strategies

Leadership and social influence
Emotional Intelligence
System analysis and evaluation
Creativity, originality, initiative

Reasoning and problem solving
Technology design and programming
Critical thinking and analysis

Train the Trainers

September 2021

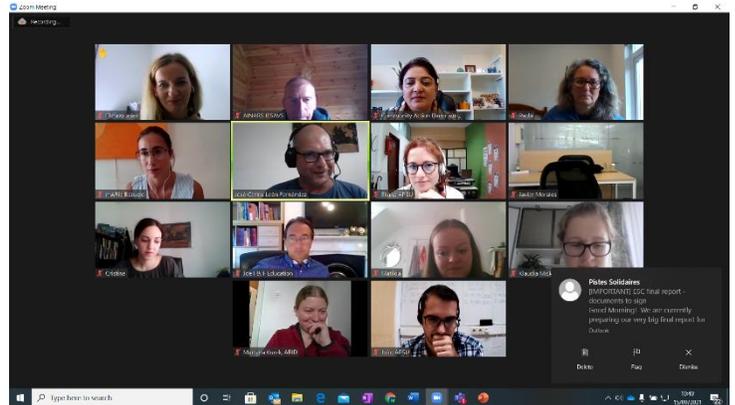

During the training of the trainers, we tested the usability of these skills with staff and trainers of the partners across the United Kingdom, Spain, Poland, Ireland, Portugal and Latvia.

If you are interested in professional self-development and want to learn about how to prepare for the future job market, take a look at our collection of video interviews with managers and entrepreneurs:
